more than just a stylish design book the founder of parachute home teaches you how to design a home that is not only beautiful but mindful functional and uniquely yours a house is a structure that provides shelter a home tells the story of who you are how to make a house a home guides your discovery of what is most important to you in achieving warmth and comfort as well as a functional space explore the possibilities of creating an environment that is uniquely yours one that welcomes nurtures and inspires parachute founder ariel kaye meets you wherever you are with actionable tips and advice on how to match purpose with style here is everything you need to bring mindful choices into your home to make it completely yours from color palettes to organization house plants to furniture whether you want to update your bedding redo your living room or take on the whole house enjoy the remarkable journey of making your house your home the extraordinary early life in india and england of one of the world's leading public intellectuals where is home for amartya sen home has been many places dhaka in modern bangladesh the little university town of santiniketan where he was raised as much by his grandparents as by his parents calcutta where he first studied economics and was active in student movements and trinity college cambridge to which he came aged 19 sen brilliantly recreates the atmosphere in each of these he remembers his river journeys between dhaka and his parents ancestral homes and wonderfully explores the rich history and culture of bengal in 1943 he witnessed the disastrous unfolding of the bengal famine and the following year the inflaming of tensions between hindus and muslims in the years before independence some of his family were imprisoned for their opposition to british rule central to sen's formation was the intellectually liberating school in santiniketan founded by rabindranath tagore who gave him his name amartya and exciting conversations in the coffee house on college street in calcutta in cambridge he engaged with many of the leading economists and philosophers of the day especially with the great marxist thinker piero sraffa who provided a direct connection not only to wittgenstein but to antonio gramsci and the anti fascist battles in italy in the 1920s after years in europe and america the book ends when he returns to delhi in 1963 home in the world shows how sense experience shaped his ideas about economics philosophy identity community famines gender inequality social choice and the power of discussion in public life the joys of learning and the importance of friendship are powerfully conveyed he invokes some of the great thinkers of the past and his own time from ashoka in the third century bc and akbar in the sixteenth to david hume adam smith karl marx john maynard keynes maurice dobb kenneth arrow and eric hobsbawm above all sense emphasises the importance of enlarging our views as much as we can of human sympathy and understanding across time and distance and of being at home in the world the idea that home is a special place a separate place a place where we can be our true selves is so obvious to us today that we barely pause to think about it but as judith flanders shows in this revealing book home is a relatively new concept when in 1900 dorothy assured the citizens of oz that there is no place like home she was expressing a view that was a culmination of 300 years of economic physical and emotional change in the making of home flanders traces the evolution of the house across northern europe and america from the sixteenth to the early twentieth century and paints a striking picture of how the homes we know today differ from homes through history the transformation of houses into homes she argues was not a private matter but an essential ingredient in the rise of capitalism and the birth of the industrial revolution without home the modern world as we know it would not exist and as flanders charts the development of ordinary household objects from cutlery chairs and curtains to fitted kitchens plumbing and windows she also peels back the myths that surround some of our most basic assumptions including our entire notion of what it is that makes a family as full of fascinating detail as her previous bestsellers the making of home is also a book teeming with original and provocative ideas the elements of a home reveals the fascinating stories behind more than 60 everyday household objects and furnishings brimming with amusing anecdotes and absorbing trivia this captivating collection is a treasure trove of curiosities with tales from the kitchen the bedroom and every room in between these pages expose how napkins got their start as lumps of dough in ancient greece why forks were once seen as immoral tools of the devil and how plato devised one of the earliest alarm clocks using rocks and water plus so much more a charming book for anyone who loves history design or décor readers discover tales from every nook and cranny of a home entries feature historical details from locations all over the world including europe asia north america and africa as a design historian and former managing editor of design sponge author amy azzarito has crafted an engaging whimsical history of the household objects you've never thought twice about the result is a fascinating book filled with tidbits from a wide range of cultures and places about the history of domestic luxury filled with lovely illustrations by alice pattullo perfect for anyone who adores interior design trivia history and unique facts great for those who enjoyed the greatest stories never told 100 tales from history to astonish bewilder and stupefy by rick beyer an uncommon history of common things by bethanne patrick and john thompson encyclopedia of the exquisite an anecdotal history of elegant delights by jessica kerwin jenkins a major scientific revolution has begun a new paradigm that rivals darwin's theory in importance at its heart is the discovery of the order that lies deep within the most complex of systems from the origin of life to the workings of giant corporations to the rise and fall of great civilizations and more than anyone else this revolution is the work of one man stuart kauffman a macarthur fellow and visionary pioneer of the new science of complexity now in at home in the universe kauffman brilliantly weaves together the excitement of intellectual discovery and a fertile mix of insights to give the general reader a fascinating look at this new science and at the forces for order that lie at the edge of chaos we all know of instances of spontaneous order in nature an oil droplet in water forms a sphere snowflakes have a six fold symmetry what we are only now discovering kauffman says is that the range of spontaneous order is enormously greater than we had supposed indeed self organization is a great undiscovered principle of nature but how does this spontaneous order arise kauffman contends that complexity itself triggers self organization or what he calls order for free that if enough different molecules pass a certain threshold of complexity they begin to self organize into a new entity a living cell kauffman uses the analogy of a thousand buttons on a rug join two buttons randomly with thread then another two and so on at first you have isolated pairs later small clusters but suddenly at around the 500th repetition a remarkable transformation occurs much like the phase transition when water abruptly turns to ice and the buttons link up in one giant network likewise life may have originated when the mix of different molecules in the primordial soup passed a certain level of complexity and self organized into living entities if so then life is not a highly improbable chance event but almost inevitable kauffman uses the basic insight of order for free to illuminate a staggering range of phenomena we see how a single celled embryo can grow to a highly complex organism with over two hundred different cell types we learn how the science of complexity extends darwin s theory of evolution by natural selection that self organization selection and chance are the engines of the biosphere and we gain insights into biotechnology the stunning magic of the new frontier of genetic engineering generating trillions of novel molecules to find new drugs vaccines enzymes biosensors and more indeed kauffman shows that ecosystems economic systems and even cultural systems may all evolve according to similar general laws that tissues and terra cotta evolve in similar ways and finally there is a profoundly spiritual element to kauffman s thought if as he argues life were bound to arise not as an incalculably improbable accident but as an expected fulfillment of the natural order then we truly are at home in the universe kauffman s earlier volume the origins of order written for specialists received lavish praise stephen jay Gould called it a landmark and a classic and nobel laureate philip anderson wrote that there are few people in this world who ever ask the right questions of science and they are the ones who affect its future most profoundly stuart kauffman is one of these in at home in the universe this visionary thinker takes you along as he explores new insights into the nature of life the home upgrade looks beyond big budget projects and explores homes where the seemingly impossible has been achieved for architects striking out on their own such projects offer the opportunity to flex their muscles and lead a project for the first time for hunters fishermen campers and outdoorsmen the sacred home in renaissance italy explores the rich devotional life of the italian household between 1450 and 1600 rejecting the enduring stereotype of the renaissance as a secular age this interdisciplinary study reveals the home to have been an important site of spiritual revitalization books buildings objects spaces images and archival sources are scrutinized to cast new light on the many ways in which religion infused daily life within the household acts of devotion from routine prayers to extraordinary religious experiences such as miracles and visions frequently took place at home amid the joys and trials of domestic life from childbirth and marriage to sickness and death breaking free from the usual focus on venice florence and rome the sacred home investigates practices of piety across the italian peninsula with particular attention paid to the city of naples the marche and the venetian mainland it also looks beyond the elite to consider artisanal and lower status households and reveals gender and age as factors that powerfully conditioned religious experience recovering a host of lost voices and compelling narratives at the intersection between the divine and the everyday the sacred home offers unprecedented glimpses through the keyhole into the spiritual lives of renaissance italians this stunningly beautiful picture book from new york times bestselling author illustrator eliza wheeler is based on her grandmother s childhood and pays homage to a family s fortitude as they discover the meaning of home eliza wheeler s gorgeously illustrated book tells the story of what happens when six year old marvel her seven siblings and their mom must start all over again after their father has died deep in the woods of wisconsin they find a tar paper shack it doesn t seem like much of a home but they soon start seeing what it could be during their first year it s a struggle to maintain the shack and make sure they have enough to eat but each season also brings its own delights and blessings and the children always find a way to have fun most importantly the family finds immense joy in being together surrounded by nature and slowly their little shack starts feeling like a true home warm bright and filled up with love the eighteenth century home in terms of its structure design function and furnishing was a site of transformation of spaces identities and practices home has myriad meanings and although the eighteenth century in the common imagination is often associated with taking tea on polished mahogany tables a far wider world of experience remains to be introduced at home in the eighteenth century brings together factual and fictive texts and spaces to explore aspects of the typical georgian home that we think we know from jane austen novels and extant country houses while also engaging with uncharacteristic and underappreciated aspects of the home at the core of the volume is the claim that exploring eighteenth century domesticity from a range of disciplinary vantage points can yield original and interesting questions as well as reveal new answers contributions from the fields of literature history archaeology art history heritage studies and material culture brings the home more sharply into focus in this way at home in the eighteenth century reveals a more nuanced and fluid concept of the eighteenth century home and becomes a steppingstone to greater understanding of domestic space for undergraduate level and beyond influential the most extravagant mansion every home is a deep well of echoes windows to wardrobes fireplaces to door knockers edwin heathcote attempts to fathom the elements of our everyday domestic lives the meaning of home explores how we build our houses on the souls of our ancestors how ritual and symbolic elements transmute over time into practical features and how often this symbolic charge ensures that those features last long after their practical uses are forgotten after reading this scintillating book home will never look quite the same again to most outsiders the hills of the scottish borders are a bleak and foreboding space usually made to represent the stigmatized other ad finis by the centers of power in edinburgh london and brussels at a time when globalization seems to threaten our sense of place people of the scottish borderlands provide a vivid case study of how the being in place is central to the sense of self and identity since the end of the thirteenth century people living in the scottish border hills have engaged in armed raiding on the frontier with england developed capitalist sheep farming in the newly united kingdom of great britain and are struggling to maintain their family farms in one of the marginal agricultural rural regions of the european community throughout their history sheep farmers living in these hills have established an abiding sense of place in which family and farm have become refractions of each other adopting a phenomenological perspective this book concentrates on the contemporary farming practices shepherding selling lambs and rams at auctions as well as family and class relations through which hill sheep fuse people place and way of life to create this sense of being at home in the hills from buffy the vampire slayer to the marvel cinematic universe joss whedon s work presents various representations of home spaces that give depth to his stories and storytelling through the spaceship in firefly a farmhouse in avengers age of ultron or whedon s own house in much ado about nothing his work collectively offers audiences the opportunity to question the ways we relate to and inhabit homes focusing on his television series films and comics this collection of new essays explores the diversity of home spaces in whedon s many verses and the complexity these spaces afford the narratives characters objects and relationships within them excerpt from home building and furnishing being a combined new edition of model houses for little money and inside of 100 homes in presenting in book form the accompanying designs of houses which have appeared from time to time in the ladies home journal it is perhaps desirable that a word of explanation from me should accompany them the articles were designed to be of aid in the building of small homes the designing of which is too frequently left to builders or others ignorant of architecture as an art and not always skilled in using to the best advantage the space available in their magazine publication the articles found an acceptance as testified by the fact that over 500 houses were built in one year from the plans given it is hoped that in book form the plans may continue to prove of value to prospective house builders moreover it is hoped that they may stimulate the demand for good plans and so prove of benefit to architects at large for as has been urged in the articles they are in no sense intended to take the place of the services of a trained architect each house is a problem requiring the best skill of an expert none more so than the small house which must be inexpensive yet which is desired to be just as artistic as the largest about the publisher forgotten books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books find more at forgottenbooks.com this book is a reproduction of an important historical work forgotten books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy in rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition we do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works the canadian oil sands are one of the world s most important energy sources and the subject of global attention in relation to climate change and pollution this volume engages ethnographically with key issues concerning the oil sands by working from anthropological literature and beyond to explore how people struggle to make and hold on to diverse senses of home in the region the contributors draw on diverse fieldwork experiences with communities in alberta that are affected by the oil sands industry through a series of case studies they illuminate the complexities inherent in the entanglements of race class indigeneity gender and ontological concerns in a regional context characterized by extreme extraction the chapters are unified in a common concern for ethnographically theorizing settler colonialism sentient landscapes and multispecies relations within a critical political ecology framework and by the prominent role that extractive industries play in shaping new relations between indigenous peoples the state newcomers corporations plants animals and the land the proof is in the testimonials that have arrived by the thousands this is a really great book it s simple it s straightforward we read it we ran our ad we got over 100 telephone calls we sold our home john henke boise id our real estate broker was green with envy in 5 days we got 24 bids higher than the highest bid she got us in 11 1 2 years you re our hero elizabeth tim hunter south berwick me i had a business opportunity i couldn t take advantage of unless i sold my home immediately i saw your book in a bookstore and sold my home the next weekend thanks doug walker salt lake city ut thanks to your system i sold my home in 5 days at 1 26 million you saved me 78 000 in real estate commission v potomac md now in its
