systems in that data analysis would be at the epicentre and a key facilitator of some current integrative phase of science it is all devoted to the question of representation in science whence its name image in action and main thrusts such a classification makes concepts as complexity or dynamics appear like transverse notions a measure among others or a dimensional feature among others part a broadly discusses a dialogue between experiments and information be information extracted from or brought to experiments the concept is fundamental in statistics and tailors to the emergence of collective behaviours communication then asks for uncertainty considerations noise indeterminacy or approximation and its wider impact on the couple perception action clustering being all about uncertainty handling data set representation appears not to be the only solution introducing hierarchies with adapted metrics a priori pre improving the data resolution are other methods in need of evaluation the technology together with increasing semantics enables to involve synthetic data as simulation results for the multiplication of sources part b plays with another couple important for complex systems state vs transition state first descriptions would characterize physics while transition first would fit biology that could stem from life producing dynamical systems in essence uncertainty joining causality here geometry can bring answers stable patterns in the state space involve constraints from some dynamics consistency stable patterns of activity characterize biological systems too in the living world the complexity i e a global measure on both states and transitions increases with consciousness this might be a principle of evolution beside geometry or measures operators and topology have supporters for reporting on dynamical systems eventually targeting universality the category theory of topological thermodynamics is proposed as a foundation of dynamical system understanding part c details examples of actual data system relations in regards to explicit applications and experiments it shows how pure computer display and animation techniques link models and representations to reality in some concrete virtual manner such techniques are inspired from artificial life with no connection to physical biological or physiological phenomena the virtual observatory is the second illustration of the evidence that simulation helps science not only in giving access to more flexible parameter variability but also Box due to the associated data and method storing capabilities it fosters interoperability statistics on bulky corpuses efficient data mining possibly through the web etc in short a reuse of resources in general including novel ideas and competencies other examples deal more classically with inverse
